FOOTSTEPS 1

Introducing Footsteps

Footsteps is a training course in Christian discipleship for anyone who wants to deepen their understanding of faith and develop their skills in ministry. It is designed to make connections between different areas of faith and practice with lively, effective mission at its heart.

There are several strands to Footsteps. This Information Pack tells you about Footsteps 1 which is a one year course. It has now been running for 7 years in the Central Baptist Association.

Footsteps 2 offers a second year for anyone who has already completed year one. However, Footsteps 1 is a stand-alone course which you can follow without any expectation that you have to carry on for a second year.

Footsteps Pathway Days are held alongside Footsteps 1 and 2, once every term. Each day focusses on one aspect of Christian life and ministry and is led by people with special interest and experience in that area. They are open to everyone whether they have done other Footsteps courses or not.

Footsteps Pathway Courses can be held anywhere in CBA, when a church or group of churches wants to focus on training in one specific area [such as Pastoral Care or Developing Leadership Skills]. These are normally run as evening courses, but can also happen over 2 Saturdays.

Footsteps 1 has been created for people involved in local churches, whatever your previous experience, educational qualifications or age. So it is open to everyone who has the support of their local church. This means that we recognise that your own learning and experience will make a unique contribution as everyone explores key issues and new ideas together.

The Trainers also come from a variety of backgrounds, each with different knowledge and understanding, to offer fresh perspectives and examples of good practice.

Footsteps seeks to support you in deepening your spirituality and relationship with God, in reflecting on and extending your understanding of your faith and in developing your gifts so that they may be used more effectively in the church and the community. Therefore, it is set in a context of worship and prayer with opportunities to support one another in small pastoral prayer groups.

Venue: Footsteps 1 and Footsteps 2, for the last 3 years, has been held at the Church of Christ the King, Frithwood Crescent, Kents Hill, Buckinghamshire MK7 6HG

Deepening Spirituality

Our desire to grow in our relationship with God lies at the heart of Footsteps so these aspects of the course offer particular time and space to do so.

Worship and Prayer: Each Saturday we gather together to begin our day with worship. There are opportunities to volunteer to lead these sessions, especially if you have opted for the 'Leading Worship' stream. Each day ends with quiet reflection and prayer.

Prayer Groups: Each student becomes part of a small group which meets each Saturday to pray together. These are led by Personal Pastoral Assistants (PPAs), who are also there for you to talk to about any issues that arise during the course. We want you to know there are people to support and help you as you go through the year.

Journal: We give you a notebook which we invite you to use as a journal during the year. You might keep this as a prayer diary but also jot down any significant moments in your own walk with God or particular things that you have learnt. This is a private journal between you and God but there will be opportunities to talk about the things you are discovering, if you want to.

Teaching: Footsteps has a teaching stream on Spirituality where various trainers will give you a wider understanding of ways of walking with God.

Deepening Understanding and Developing Skills

In Footsteps 1 there are 9 teaching streams, or subject areas. These are presented by trainers who have experience of teaching as well as much experience of church life.

There are FIVE core streams which everyone studies together in their entirety.

Core Subjects

Understanding the Bible: We consider the background to the Bible, the different types of writing it contains and the various authors of Old and New Testament books, before we go on to think about how we apply the Bible to our lives today.

Understanding our Faith: After an introductory session, this stream looks at four key themes of our faith: Who God is, Creation, Salvation and The Church.

Mission and Culture: This stream explores a biblical understanding of mission alongside an overview of culture in contemporary society. We spend time gaining insights into the way in which churches can engage more effectively in mission. This is followed by practical examples, such as building missionary congregations and developing new ways of being church.

Baptist History and Principles: Starting with an overview of some significant events in Baptist History, this stream explores what is important to and distinctive for Baptist Christians and includes some practical areas concerned with the way Baptist churches function today.

Spirituality: Following an introductory session in which we consider different ways in which we relate to God, we will explore a number of different traditions of spirituality which have developed throughout the history of the Church.

Option Streams

As well as the core subjects there are FOUR further subjects which are taken as options. You will be asked choose TWO option streams on the first day of Footsteps:

Option 1: Either 'Leading Worship' or 'Pastoral Care'

Option 2: Either 'Preaching' or 'Leadership Skills'

It would be good to think about which options you might choose before you come, perhaps talking it over with your minister or others in your church. There will also be the opportunity to talk about this on the first day, so that a decision can be made ready for the October sessions.

Each of the 4 options includes at least one core session for everyone, followed by 5 sessions in groups.

Leading Worship: An initial core session on the meaning of worship is developed reflectively within the option group. These sessions will focus on the different dimensions and aspects of worship, such as using the Bible, music and prayer, the importance of silence and the senses, the participation of children and seekers and the Lord's Supper.

Pastoral Care: After 3 core sessions on the nature of Pastoral Care, the art of listening and the ministry of healing, there are option sessions looking more specifically at issues faced throughout the course of a person's life and in caring for those who are especially vulnerable.

Preaching: One core session on the nature of preaching provides a basis for the option group to reflect on developing a preaching ministry. The group sessions include engaging with the Biblical text, discerning the message, developing a sermon, using illustrations and delivering a sermon, as well as effective communication and meaningful evaluation.

Leadership Skills: 2 core sessions look at a Biblical understanding of leadership and an introduction to conflict transformation. The option sessions develop the Biblical teaching of leadership, and examine various styles of leadership, accountability and mentoring, leading teams, transformational leadership and leading small groups.

What is expected of me?

Footsteps 1 aims to equip you so you are better able to serve God in your church. This intention is reflected throughout the course.

Participation: The style of teaching is interactive, for we believe that when we participate we learn more. There will be times in each session to listen to the trainers but also times to join in, perhaps focussed on an exercise to do in pairs or in small groups.

It is a really good idea to make some notes of your own in addition to the handouts which you will often be given. What you are discovering will 'stick' better – and you will know what you were thinking when you come to look back on the session!

Journal: As mentioned above you will be invited to keep a journal for the year as part of your walk with God.

Preparation: Each Saturday will contain sessions covering various elements from the different strands which are being taught during the year. As the style of teaching involves participation by everyone there may be a small number of things that you will be asked to take away to do, after a Footsteps Saturday. This will not be handed in or marked, but will contribute to future sessions so that these work to their fullest potential. We anticipate that this preparation will take no more than 2 -3 hours over the 2-5 weeks between Saturdays.

To help you with this you may wish to use your journal each Saturday to reflect on what you have been doing and jot down key ideas and reminders. This should help you to make links between the different strands and identify areas which you may want to investigate further.

Assignments: In each of the strands there will be the opportunity to write an assignment. This is entirely optional, except for those seeking to be recognised as lay preachers and lay pastors. If that is you, you will find more details on page 6. Although assignments are optional, and there is no sense of failure if you do not complete any, we encourage you to have a go and at least try to write some. This is because the process of thinking further about an issue and having to put it down on paper really helps to continue the learning process. We think that you will gain more from the whole course if you attempt some assignments. These will be read, so that you can have some feedback and comments on what you have written but there are no marks given. The purpose is to help you learn.

You will be guided as to when you might begin your assignments. Obviously you will not want to submit a piece of work before that aspect of the course has been covered in the teaching sessions, so that you can reflect on what has been studied and discussed.

The maximum number of assignments you would do is SEVEN: five from the core subjects and two from your option subjects. Please do not attempt the option subjects you have not taken.

Involvement in the Local Church: As you go through the course we hope that you will be able to continue to be involved in your local church. We encourage your minister or church leader to have regular conversations with you about Footsteps 1 and your opportunities for service.

For your part, we encourage you to talk to your minister or church leaders about what you hope to gain from Footsteps 1, about which options to choose and about possibilities for service both now and in the future.

In addition, we suggest that you also ask someone else [not your minister/church leader] to act as a mentor for you during the course to give you extra support. This will help you reflect on what you are learning and the way this relates to your activities within the church and wider community.

What else can I expect?

Training: First and foremost you will receive training that will help you serve God in your local church. This will come through learning alongside others with the help and input of experienced trainers. Handouts are provided for you to use and add your own notes, so that you can refer to them later.

Help and Encouragement: All those involved with Footsteps are keen to see you grow and develop in your Christian faith. We will seek to give you help and encouragement. If you have particular questions or difficulties then please don't hesitate to talk to either your PPA or Anne Lane, the Course Leader.

Communication and Learning Support: This works both ways: Anne will often send e-mails to give you information before the next Footsteps and will also respond to anything you want to find out.

On the first Saturday of Footsteps we will introduce you to WebLearn, a virtual learning environment where you will be able to access some notes and PowerPoints from the course, and find additional material. Sometimes you will need to look at a file on WebLearn in preparation for the next Saturday.

Please Note: If you do not have internet access we will find other ways to communicate and share information

Certificates: We also want to recognise the considerable time and effort that you will have put in to attend Footsteps and so we organise a special evening after the course has finished. This is an opportunity to meet each other again and celebrate your achievements. At this evening we will award certificates to all those who have completed Footsteps 1.

A step along the way: Hopefully this year will enable you to hear God's call for the future. For many people, doing Footsteps has led on to new things: opportunities for service and further training, such as studying to be recognised by the Association in local leadership or as an ordained minister, or for a specialist role.

Footsteps 2 is also an opportunity to build directly on Footsteps 1 with further training.

Lay Preachers and Lay Pastors

As well as being a course designed for everyone in the church, Footsteps 1 can also be used by those who are seeking recognition as Lay Preachers and Lay Pastors. The requirement of the Baptist Union is that those following such a pathway compile a portfolio of academic work with one of the Baptist Colleges which is in membership with the Baptist Union of Great Britain. The portfolio covers the nine different streams, and so Footsteps 1 can contribute to this. Those seeking recognition will need to write a set of 7 assignments and by going on to take Footsteps 2, writing another 7 assignments, working alongside the Tutors in Community Learning can continue with further study and training needed in order to complete the portfolio. This will be done over more than the 2 years of Footsteps 1 and 2.

Please note: If you are thinking about recognition as a Lay Preacher or Pastor, you must first talk to your church leadership and then to one of the Regional Ministers to find out all that is involved. Community Learning courses [such as Footsteps] contribute to the academic component, which is part of the process.

For more information about recognition as a Lay Preacher or Lay Pastor you must contact one of the Regional Ministers in CBA. For more details on the academic study required, please contact one of the Tutors in Community Learning,

Regent's Park College, Pusey Street, Oxford, OX1 2LB.

Finding the Church of Christ the King, Kents Hill

The Church of Christ the King is situated in the south east corner of Milton Keynes, within easy reach of the M1 motorway at either J13 or J14, both are about 2 miles away. If you are using a satnav to find us, our postcode is MK7 6HG.
