

OXFORD CENTRE FOR
Religion and Culture

Public Lectures: Hilary Term 2020

RELIGION, CULTURE AND INCLUSION IN DISCUSSION

A series of lectures by Centre Research Associates to prepare for the transition of the Oxford Centre for Christianity and Culture into the Oxford Centre of Religion and Culture and to mark the taking up of post of its new Director, Dr. Anthony Reddie

- 20 January Black Christianity and Britain and the Quest for a New Catholicity via an Anti-Racist Social Ethic
Dr. Anthony Reddie, Director, Oxford Centre for Religion and Culture, Regent's Park College; and Extraordinary Professor, Theological Ethics, University of South Africa.
- 27 January God is Love, But is Love God? Some Perplexities About Love in Religion
Professor Paul Fiddes, Principal Researcher, Programme on the Study of Love in Religion, Oxford Centre for Religion and Culture; Senior Research Fellow, Regent's Park College; Professor of Systematic Theology, University of Oxford.
- 3 February Values, Identity and Religion in the European Union
Dr. Sean Oliver-Dee, Research Associate, Oxford Centre for Religion and Culture; Fellow of the Royal Historical Society, Contributing Author, 'The Science of Values and Identity in the European Union' project of the 'Enlightenment 2.0' workstream.
- 10 February Art and Inarticulacy
Dr. Bill Prosser, Research Associate, Oxford Centre for Religion and Culture.
- 17 February Rhetoric and Reality: Including the Homeless Hostel Resident in the Democratic Process Dr. Helen Cameron, Research Associate, Oxford Centre for Religion and Culture with respondent Professor Stephen Pattison, Former H.G. Wood Professor of Theology, University of Birmingham.
- 24 February Melos, Babble and the Power of the Spirit in the Medieval Lyric
Dr. Beth Dodd, Research Associate, Oxford Centre for Religion and Culture; and Lecturer, Sarum College.
- 2 March Uncovering and Tackling Religion or Belief-Related Harassment: Lessons from an Office For Students' Research and Intervention Project
Dr. Paul Weller, Associate Director (UK), Oxford Centre for Christianity and Culture, and Research Fellow in Religion and Society, Regent's Park College; Professor, Centre for Trust, Peace and Social Relations, Coventry University; and Emeritus Professor, University of Derby.
- 9 March Human Flourishing, Disability, and Technology: a Theological Perspective
Dr. Eleanor McLaughlin, Research Associate Oxford Centre for Religion and Culture, Lecturer in Theology and Ethics, Regent's Park College, and Researcher in the Human Flourishing: A Christian Vision international research group.

Mondays at 5pm
Regent's Park College
Oxford, OX1 2LB

www.rpc.ox.ac.uk